The Internet Editor shall also serve as a member of the Publications Committee and shall consult with that Committee on major policy matters.
ARTICLE IV—Executive Committee and President’s Cabinet

1. There shall be an Executive Committee of the ((Division)) Society consisting of the President, the immediate Past President, the President-Elect, the Secretary, the Treasurer, the Representative(s) to the APA Council of Representatives, the Editor of Teaching of Psychology, the Executive Director of OTRP, the Archivist, the Society’s Internet Editor, and the Chiefs of the standing committees.

2. The Executive Committee shall (have general supervision of) supervise the affairs of the ((Division)) Society subject to the provisions of these bylaws. (This Committee shall appoint the Editor of Teaching of Psychology and the chair and members of committees as specified in these bylaws.)

3. The President shall preside at all meetings of the Executive Committee, and the Secretary shall be responsible for recording and preparing the minutes. At times other than formal meetings of the Executive Committee, the Executive Committee may make decisions by majority vote after appropriate deliberation and consultation by other means. The Secretary shall also record and report major Executive Committee decisions made at these times.

4. In the event that the President cannot consult with the entire Executive Committee, there shall be a President’s Cabinet with which the President will consult. The Cabinet shall include the immediate Past President, President-Elect, Secretary, Treasurer, the most senior Council Representative, the Editor of Teaching of Psychology, and the Executive Director of the Office of Teaching Resources in Psychology.

ARTICLE V—Nominations and Elections

1. The elected officers of the ((Division)) Society shall be determined by a ((majority)) vote of Fellows(,), Associate, and Affiliates) of the ((Division)) Society, voting on a mail ballot, with the exception of Representatives to APA Council, for whom ((Affiliates) only APA members may ((not)) vote.

2. The Election Committee shall issue a call for nominations for the office of President-Elect, for the offices of Secretary and Treasurer in those years when a term of office expires, and for the offices of APA Council Representatives(,) according to the timeline specified by APA. The results of this nomination procedure shall be considered for advisory purposes by the Election Committee in setting up a slate of candidates for the final selection.

((3. The Election Committee Chair shall report the names of persons nominated for each office to the Central Office of APA by the deadline specified by APA. The APA Central Office will issue the election ballot in accordance with the bylaws of the APA.))

3. The final ballot shall list at least two, but usually and preferably, three nominees for the office of President-Elect. There shall be at least twice as many nominees as there are persons to be elected for each other office.

4. The candidate receiving the largest number of votes for each Society office shall be declared elected. The count of the votes for each ((Division Two)) office shall be obtained by the Election Committee Chair, (Secretary from the Election Committee of the APA, and these counts shall be referred to)) and the ((Division’s)) Election Committee shall announce the election results at the annual business meeting of the ((Division)) Society

Terms of service on the Committee shall be three years with terms staggered so that one new member is appointed each year. It shall be the duty of the Chair to solicit nominations and to compile the files of the nominees for review. It shall be the duty of the Fellows Committee to examine the qualifications of Members to become Fellows of the APA and the [(Division)] Society according to APA and [(Division)] Society standards and shall approve those individuals deserving as recognition as Fellow. In case of nominees who are not Fellows of other APA divisions, the Fellows Committee will forward materials to the APA Membership Committee.

The Program Committee shall consist of at least [(four)] five members. The Chair shall be appointed by the President with the approval of the Executive Committee for a two year term. The Associate Chair shall be appointed by the President for a two-year term. The Associate Chair becomes the Chair upon appointment by the President. Other members of the Committee shall be the President, ([and]) President-Elect, and Secretary. [(The program reviewers shall be selected by the Program Chair from as broad a range of institutions and areas of interest as possible. In addition, the Secretary shall be an ex officio member of this Committee.)] It shall be the duty of the Program Committee to make arrangements for the program and annual meeting of the [(Division)] Society in accordance with Article VI of these bylaws [(and to coordinate the program with the convention program arranged by the Program Committee of the APA)].

The Election Committee shall consist of the three most recent past presidents of the [(Division)] Society, the senior member serving as chair. A member of the Election Committee may not be considered for elective office. [(In addition, the Secretary shall be an ex officio member of this committee. The Chair issues calls for nominations or arranges for same with the APA and is responsible for mailing the proposed slate of officers to the APA's Office of Board/Council Operations by the deadline specified by the APA. The Chair also receives the election vote count from the APA. It shall be the duty of this Committee, (in cooperation with the Election Committee of the APA,) to conduct and supervise the elections of the [(Division)] Society as provided in Article V of these bylaws.]

[(9. The Committee on Secondary and Undergraduate Education shall consist of three to five members appointed by the President with the approval of the Executive Committee, one of whom shall be designated as Chair. Each member shall normally serve a three-year term. The Chair will be appointed from among the current committee members. The Committee shall consider and report to the Executive Committee on matters relating to prebaccalaureate and baccalaureate education in psychology, including that provided in colleges, universities, junior or community colleges, and high schools. The Committee should develop a charge and time frame for its agenda. Special subcommittees may, with the approval of the Executive Committee, be appointed to consider specific aspects of the Committee's charge.)]

[(10. The Committee on Graduate and Continuing Education shall consist of three to five members appointed by the President with the approval of the Executive Committee, one of whom shall be designated as Chair.
